

Bringing Fusion Energy to Society

National Institutes for Quantum Science and Technology (QST)

The conceptual design is now complete for the Q-DEMO fusion demonstration reactor aiming to demonstrate fusion power generation in the 2030s. By leveraging the extensive knowledge, experience, and talent accumulated through the ITER and JT-60SA projects, QST is dedicated to realizing fusion energy to bring lasting benefits to society.

Fusion